

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Farm Pride Foods Ltd is committed to managing its business in an environmentally responsible manner. With an Environmental Management Plan in place which integrates environmental considerations into Farm Pride's decision-making processes, operations, and culture, with the objective to meet or exceed environmental best practice standards.

To meet this commitment Farm Pride shall:

- comply with all local, state and national environmental legislation, regulations, permits, standards and Codes of Practice.
- liaise with our suppliers & customers to adhere to their specific environmental management systems.
- drive a culture of training, learning & sustainable environmental improvement using the relevant company policies and procedures.
- carry out risk assessments to identify environmental hazards and aspects; and with respect to the hierarchy of controls implement measures that will eliminate, or reduce, the relevant risks and impacts to a level as low as reasonably practicable.
- Measure, monitor & carry out surveillance of environmental controls through verifications and validations of various manufacturing systems, regulatory and internal testing procedures, staff health and safety, stock controls and financial reports.
- actively communicate with the concerned stakeholders including employees, regulatory bodies and the community on environmental issues.
- through employee engagement, consultation and participation, implement environmentally safe systems that support responsible care and continuous improvement.
